"He delights in mercy" (Micah 7:18)

Ho-Hum, Let's Worship

by Steve Higginbotham

One of the sad realities about Christian worship is the sheer boredom some people experience on a weekly basis. I've heard of people counting the number of bricks in the wall, the number of tiles in the ceiling, finding the longest or shortest songs in the song book...just about anything to stay awake. I've even seen a book entitled, "101 Exciting Things To Do During A Dull Sermon." I'll admit, some of the things in the book made me chuckle, but when I reflect on that little book, it's like the old saying, "If it weren't so funny, it would be sad."

Friends, remember that worship is a verb. It is not something you attend, but something in which you participate. Maybe if we would change our perspective of worship and realize that God is the audience and that we are supposed to be the participants, we wouldn't find ourselves so easily bored.
